

300 Scouts Present At Successful Rally Held in New Armory

Contests and Demonstrations Show
Ulster County Scouts are Making Advancement in Matters of Scoutcraft—Hard Time Picking Winners.

One of the most successful and smoothest running rallies ever held in the Boy Scouts of Ulster county was staged at the new armory Monday evening. There was a large attendance of Scout leaders, parents and friends, bleachers which had been installed along the east side of the armory being filled. Some 300 scouts were present, representing 17 different troops in Ulster county.

The contests and demonstrations were most interesting and carried out in a manner that showed that Ulster county Scouts are making advancement in matters of Scoutcraft.

Troop 12 of Kingston carried off the honors in the contests, winning first in six out of the ten contests.

Five troops in the county achieved the honor of winning the award made by President Roosevelt for reaching a certain standard of excellence during the year 1933. They were presented with the ribbon awards at the close of the rally. The five winning troops were Troop 28 of Ellenville, Troop 6 and 12 of Kingston, Troop 54 of Woodstock, and 26 of Port Jervis.

It was a colorful and pleasing scene when the uniformed Scouts opened the activities of the evening by parading twice about the big drill shed, with flags and banners flying. At the conclusion of the parade colors were massed, the Scouts gave the pledge of allegiance and then stood at attention while the band played the national anthem.

Winners of First Places.

The various contests followed and the competition was so keen in some cases that the judges had their hands full to pick the winners of first places. Judges were A. D. Sweney, chairman, Major O. R. Illibrandt, S. C. Hancock, Harry Halverson, Sam J. Scudder.

The winners were:

- Dressing Contest—Troop 12, 1st; Troop 24, 2d.
- Obstacle Relay—Troop 12, 1st; Troop 33, 2d.
- Charlie Race—Troop 39, 1st; Troop 5, 2d.
- Basket Carry—Troop 12, 1st; Troop 2, 2d.
- Fire by flint and steel—Troop 6, 1st; Troop 12, 2d.
- Fire by bow and drill—Troop 6, 1st; Troop 5, 2d.
- Water boiling—Troop 12, 1st; Troop 30, 2d.
- String burning—Troop 34, 1st; Troop 23, 2d.
- Tent pitching—Troop 12, 1st; Troop 6, 2d.
- Wall scaling—Troop 12, 1st; Troop 28, 2d.

One of the most interesting of the contests was that in which eight members of a troop had to scale a nine-foot wall, run a certain distance and stand at attention. The eight scouts of Troop 12 made it in 22 seconds, seven seconds better than the second place winners.

The three demonstrations given were excellent. Perhaps the most interesting was the social dance of the Cheyenne Indians, given by Troop 12. The scouts wore Indian costumes, following designs of those worn by the plains Indians, and made by the scouts themselves. Lights were turned out and the dance given under a spotlight. Other demonstrations were those given by Troop 5, showing the proper way to handle injured persons and semaphore signaling, given by Troop 9.

The exhibits of scout handiwork, shown in 19 booths, were declared by Scout Executive Wright to have been among the finest he had seen shown at any similar event. Winners for exhibits were: Troop 12, 1st; Troop 23 of Ellenville and Troop 39 of Highland, tied for second place; Troop 5, third.

The closing ceremonies were impressive. The scouts massed as at the opening, and as Ward Brigham, bugler of Troop 12 blew Taps, the American flag was slowly lowered from the ceiling while a spotlight played upon its folds.

Death Weapon Marks Scarnici Trial Start

Schoharie, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP).—Identification of the weapons that sent to death the Rensselaer detective he is accused of killing will feature the second trial of Leonard Scarnici, New York gangster, which opened here today.

A jury disagreed in the first trial of Scarnici at Troy, at the same time acquitting two companions, Arthur Reina and Charles Shore, of the same charge. A change of venue brought the retrial to this valley town.

Counsel for Scarnici said today that a ballistics expert will be called to the stand to identify the gun that killed the detective, James A. Stevens, during a bank holdup. Only a machine gun and the detective's revolver were introduced in the first trial.

Venue men will be questioned day and night in an effort to begin taking of testimony by new Monday morning. Court probably will adjourn Friday night.

Smash Building Housing 2,000 Socialist Families In Vienna

Howitzers Crash In Third and Fourth Floors of Europe's Greatest Apartment Building—No One Knows How Many Were Killed—Battles Still Rage In Three Other Places With Dead Outside of Vienna Placed at 200.

Vienna, Feb. 12 (AP).—Women and children were fed to the flames of the third and fourth floors of Europe's greatest apartment building as government artillery smashed the $1,000,000 Karl Marx apartment building housing 2,000 Socialist families.

No one knows how many were killed. The howitzers apparently smashed the third and fourth floors of Europe's greatest apartment building as the forces of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss struggled to put down the Socialist rebellion. The middle arch of the building collapsed.

At least 200 presumably have been killed outside Vienna. Battles raged at Steyr, Graz and Linz as well as Vienna.

At Steyr, sharp fighting broke out again early this morning when Socialists stationed machine guns on top of a hill commanding the town.

Other forces of Socialists were in possession of the great wartime munitions plant. Government forces charged the plant repeatedly in a desperate attempt to take the position.

Men fell, dead and wounded, but there was no time for opportunity to count the casualties.

The battle at the Karl Marx building was as horrible as some of the veterans who fought had seen in the days of the World War.

Machine guns had blazed from the windows of the homes of laborers at the soldiers who sought to enter.

The government forces found machine guns, hand grenades, and tear gas insufficient to batter down the stubborn resistance. So they used the big shells ripped into the concrete structure. Cement dust rose in the air. Whole corners of the building disappeared like magic.

Following up the artillery attack, government forces swarmed into the courtyard.

Socialists continued their firing from machine gun nests. Rifle fire also was directed against the attackers.

Hand grenade fighting developed as the combatants came to close quarters.

Heavy fighting also broke out again, after hours of comparative calm, in the Floridsdorf factory section of Vienna.

Socialists, who lost a fight for possession of their own headquarters, were stormed and captured.

Eleven were reported dead in this engagement.

At the same time, defenders of the big municipal flat, the complex Schlingershof, refused to surrender after they had been handed an ultimatum.

As a result, artillery fire was opened against the buildings. Field howitzers were used.

The army held off with its artillery for hours. The big guns finally were trained into play, however, with machine gunners stationed at the corners of the great building pouring a deadly fire into the troops.

Field artillery shells tore great fragments out of the corner of the building.

A Socialist machine-gun nest was blown up. Elsewhere, the whole surface of the structure—which is (Continued on Page 11)

Hit-Run Driver Kills Benedictine Ball To Woman on Saugerties Be Held In Kingston Highway and Escapes Municipal Auditorium

Helen Nicholson, Proprietor of Ivy Lodge, Struck Early Monday Evening by Small Ford Truck—Investigation Under Way.

Helen Nicholson, 35, proprietor of Ivy Lodge, a tourist house on the Saugerties road, was struck by a hit and run driver about 6:10 o'clock Monday evening and fatally injured. The accident was witnessed by at least one person but it was impossible to stop the driver of the small Ford truck which hit Miss Nicholson. The driver of the Ford did not stop after striking the woman and continued on toward Saugerties. A good description of the car was however secured and today a check-up is being made by State Troopers and men from the sheriff's office and it is expected that there will be further developments during the day.

Miss Nicholson was walking along the highway near the George T. Bayer gas station which is located near the Neighborhood road's junction with the Saugerties road. She was walking on her right of the road headed toward Saugerties. The Ford car which struck her was proceeding in the same direction on its right. The headlights of the car were lighted.

Fred Wilkesmann of Port Jervis was proceeding south toward Kingston when he observed the woman on the highway and he also observed the Ford car coming toward him. As the car approached the woman he says that he knew the car would strike her and he slowed down and when very close to her he saw the car strike the woman and throw her into the air. She fell to the road and the car continued on. So close was he at the time that the cars were almost opposite. He immediately stopped his car and went to the aid of Miss Nicholson.

About the same time C. Van Brocklin of Albany came along headed toward Albany. He and Mr. Wilkesmann picked up the injured woman and took her to the Bayer gas station and the authorities were notified of the accident by Mr. Bayer.

Sheriff Saxe was notified as well as the State Troopers and since that time an intensive search has been under way to locate the truck.

The Conner ambulance was sent to the scene in charge of Arthur Keator. On arrival Miss Nicholson was placed in the ambulance and rushed to the Kingston Hospital where Dr. Melish made an examination and pronounced Miss Nicholson dead. The body was then removed in the Conner ambulance to the Conner Funeral Home on Fair street where an examination was made by Dr. Myers. District Attorney Glen B. Murray was notified and ordered an autopsy performed. This was done later by Drs. Myers and C. Van Gaasbeek. The autopsy disclosed that Miss Nicholson had suffered a broken neck and a broken back together with internal hemorrhages and other injuries caused by external violence.

Coroner Conner and his assistant, Mr. Keator, then returned to the scene and conducted an investigation. At the time Miss Nicholson was picked up it was not known that she had probably died instantly.

The clothing of the unfortunate woman was badly torn on the left side indicating that it was this side which had come in contact with the Ford truck.

Sergeant Cunningham, Trooper Reilly, Sergeant Lockhart and other Troopers who were in this locality were immediately notified to search for the truck and Sergeant Phinney of the local police was notified and dispatched patrolmen to keep a look-out in the city for the car. The search is being continued today and a check-up is being made of all Ford trucks answering the description of the car.

Miss Nicholson is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmitt of Brooklyn, one brother, G. E. Nicholson, of the Saugerties road and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Marz of the Saugerties road and Mrs. Philip Manning of California. Her parents came to Kingston today and made arrangements for the funeral. Services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Conner Funeral Home, 236 Fair street. Interment will be in Montrose cemetery. The body may be viewed this evening at the Conner Funeral Home.

TWO CASES BEFORE JUDGE CULLOTON IN COURT HERE.

Richard D. Laney of Syracuse dropped in Kingston on Monday, and not being acquainted with the restricted areas where parking was prohibited, he saw an open space on Wall street and drove his car in and left it there. When he came back for the car it was to find that he was under arrest for a violation of the parking law. Judge Culloton, however, taking into consideration that Laney was an out of town man, suspended the imposition of any sentence. Earl Finley, 25, of 11 Broadway, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging her husband with neglecting to support his wife and baby. Finley said he was not guilty. Judge Culloton took husband and wife into his private office to see if they could not straighten out their matrimonial difficulties.

Fast, Firm Action
On Part of France
To Show World Ability

New Cabinet Determined to See That Integrity of Nation is Respected as Foreign Stand is Taken—Provincial Riots Quelled.

Paris, Feb. 12 (AP)—Fast and firm action to show the world that France is thoroughly able to take care of herself at home and abroad was planned by the new cabinet, after mounted guards early today rode down rioters in several provincial cities.

After a day of comparative tranquility during the 24-hour general strike yesterday in which laborers demonstrated against fascism, disorders were quelled at Marseilles, Nantes, Toulon, Lille, Roubaix and Mulhouse.

One was known dead and upwards of 150 wounded and injured as a result of the strike and accompanying violence. Forty were arrested at Marseilles after a furious pistol battle between police and a local mob.

A firm attitude toward Chancellor Hitler of Germany to see that Austria is protected will be taken by the cabinet of Premier Gaston Doumergue, it was indicated.

Likewise, the government let it be known it was not afraid to make reprisals against Great Britain, following the opening of a trade war with that country.

Sheriff Warns Truck Drivers of New Law

Trucks Must Carry Flares Into Pennsylvania or Face Arrest and Fine—New York Not Informed of New Regulation.

Sheriff Saxe calls attention to a communication just received from Commissioner Hartnett of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, warning truck drivers of New York state of an amendment to the motor vehicle law which went into effect in Pennsylvania on January 1.

The Commissioner states that he understands that New York truck owners are being arrested by Pennsylvania authorities and if convicted of violation of the new ordinance, are being fined $25, with added costs of $2.25.

The law, enacted in May, 1932, and in effect January 1 affects buses carrying passengers for hire, taxicabs being excepted and applies to all commercial vehicles having a carrying capacity of two tons or over. It provides that all vehicles coming within its provisions must carry two red or yellow burning danger signal flares, capable of burning not less than 15 minutes, in case the vehicle is disabled while on the highway and the lighting system put out of commission, these flares are to be burned on the surface of the highway, as a warning to other motorists.

The Commissioner adds that the New York state motor vehicle bureau has not been notified of this new law, but he understands that arrests are being made and fines imposed and truck owners who are entering Pennsylvania are warned to comply with its provisions.

Conway Introduces Bill To Alleviate Flood Conditions

Assemblyman Conway's Bill Provides for the Building of a Pipe Line to Prevent Flooding of Lands in Town of Shandaken From Esopus Creek—Priest Lost Life Last Year in Attempted Rescue During Flood at Shandaken.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP).—Zero weather for New York state tonight was forecast today as snow, whipped by a strong wind, fell in the eastern part of the state. A rising temperature is promised for tomorrow.

Malone, the Adirondacks region, reported that a high wind was piling snow into huge drifts and threatening to block highways. The temperature there was 6 above zero.

ZERO WEATHER FORECAST FOR N. Y. STATE TONIGHT

Assemblyman J. Edward Conway of this city on Monday evening introduced a bill in the assembly at Albany for the purpose of alleviating flood conditions in the town of Shandaken caused by water from the Tilton reservoir of New York city.

The bill provides for the building of a pipe line through or under the Esopus creek to prevent the rising of the waters of the creek so that it overflows its banks and damages property adjacent to the creek. The work of building the pipe line shall be entered upon within six months after the act takes effect, and shall be prosecuted to completion as rapidly as possible.

It will be recalled that last year flood conditions prevailed along the Esopus creek in the town of Shandaken and residents and campers were marooned on islands formed by the rising waters of the Esopus creek. At Phenicia some women and children were marooned and were rescued after an all day fight to stretch a ladder across the raging waters by the men of the Kingston fire department. A Catholic priest, lost his life when attempting to row a boat to the aid of the marooned people.

The flood conditions that prevailed that year caused considerable property damage and also washed out a number of roads and damaged bridges.

August A. Busch, Sr.,
Killed Self Today

Head of Internationally Known Family of Brewers Had Been Seriously Ill for About Six Weeks—Shooting Occurred at Palatial Estate.

St. Louis, Feb. 12 (AP)—August A. Busch, Sr., 65, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., and head of the internationally known family of brewers, shot and killed himself today at his home in St. Louis county. Busch had been seriously ill for about six weeks. The shooting occurred in his bedroom at the palatial Busch estate.

He was suffering from heart disease, gout and dropsy, and on his last visit to the brewery here a week ago he expressed discouragement, declaring he had little hope for relief.

Busch was the son of Adolphus Busch, founder of the Busch brewing interests. His father attempted to get him interested in the business but the youth had a yearning to be a rancher and cowboy. He spent six months on a western range and decided the business world was more attractive after all.

He was sent by his father to Germany where he took a course in brewing school, learning the science of fermentation and the technique of beer-making. Returning to St. Louis he served a three-year apprenticeship in all ends of the business including shipping and export.

Adolphus Busch, dying in 1913, left a double portion of his estate to August, stating in his will that "he has been of great assistance to me. Busch succeeded his father as head of the various corporations, the elder Busch controlled.

With the legacy, however, came the grave problem of growing prohibition sentiment.

In October, 1918, Busch closed his plant here in compliance with the wartime food administration, and when restrictions were lifted prohibition had come. The brewery went into the manufacture of soft cereal beverages, which were popular for several years.

With the return of beer in 1933, the company spent $7,000,000 rehabilitating its brewery here, rated as the largest in the United States, and for months the demand overwhelmed the capacity of the plant.

SEARCH FOR MISSING 3 SLOWED THROUGH LACK OF KNOWLEDGE

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP).—Search for three residents of Ontario province, Canada, reported missing since Sunday night, when they started home across the treacherous ice of St. Lawrence river in an automobile, was handicapped today by lack of information concerning their place of residence.

The men, Earl Clark, Fred Lodge and Thomas Hodge, at first reported to be residents in the vicinity of Ivy Lea or Lansdowne, Ontario, today were thought by searchers here to live elsewhere. The latest information, coming indirectly indicated they may live on Grenadier Island. Telephonic communication with that island was described as difficult. At first described as members of the Canadian Stars, a hockey team representing Ivy Lea, the three have no connection with that organization, it was learned today.

CLAIMS THREE MEN TIED HIM UP, SEARCHED HOME.

Michael Genthner of Asbury, an aged man who resides alone, claims that last Thursday evening three men entered his home after he had retired and tied him up with ropes and then searched his home, evidently for money. According to his story the men came in and announced dramatically that they were "Jack Diamond." After trying to Genthner they searched the house and then left apparently without taking anything. He spent some time in effecting a release, which he claims he finally did by securing a knife and cutting the bonds. He then proceeded to the home of Orestes Dedrick, from where a call was made to Sergeant James Cunningham at Saugerties. The sergeant immediately started an investigation.

The kidnappers were captured, and are being prosecuted under severe federal statutes.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 12 (AP).—An Iowa state policeman stole the spotlight of the Bremer kidnap hunt today with what may be a vital clue to the identity of the kidnappers.

The farm house where Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, was held prisoner until a $200,000 ransom was paid is believed to have been found. That was the important information offered to federal operatives today by Park Findley, chief of the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

The kidnappers, according to Findley, were from Creston, in southeastern Iowa. If the information proves accurate, it means that the kidnappers, when captured, may be prosecuted under severe federal statutes.

Bremer has said he can identify the place in which he was held captive. He says several men were placed upon him during his three-week captivity. He believes the wallpaper of the room in which he was held will enable him to make positive identification.

Two Million Suspect
Washington, Feb. 12 (AP).—A suspect in the Bremer kidnap case, a man named James Cunningham, was arrested at Saugerties. The arrest was made by an investigation.

Installation and Social for Veterans

The regular meeting of Joyce Schrick Post, No. 1346 Veterans of Foreign Wars, will take place at the August 227th Main St. on Thursday evening February 15, at which time the third annual "Hello America" broadcast of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. will be presented at 11:30 and last one hour.

This annual event which features the initiation by radio of a commander-in-chief, a class of many thousands of recruits, is one of the most dramatic and impressive projects of the V. F. W.

In conjunction with this year's radio four Joyce Schrick Post, V. F. W. will have a class of new members, who have been recruited during a membership drive of the last few weeks, to take the obligation administered from Washington, D. C. by Commander-in-Chief James J. Van Zandt.

In addition to the formal initiation ceremony, the third annual "Hello America" broadcast will include a 15-minute dramatic sketch "Remember the Maine" written especially for the V. F. W. by Willie Cooper, continuity editor N. R. C. in observance of the thirty-sixth anniversary of the sinking of the U. S. battleship Maine in Havana harbor, February 15, 1898.

The program also will include an address by Senator Patrick A. McCarran of Nevada, widely known as a champion of veterans, and a message by National Auxiliary President Julia L. Pitcock.

Music selections will be presented by the U. S. Marine Band and by several famous dance orchestras. Refreshments will be served and a large turnout of veterans is expected.

IDEAL PARK.

Ideal Park, Feb. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Powley of Kingston, also Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carter of Mt. Tremper were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. DeVall on Sunday afternoon.

Friends and neighbors in this vicinity are glad to hear that Mrs. Gertrude Hoyt of Willow is improving from her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tobey are spending a few weeks with relatives in Philadelphia.

Fred Russell of Mt. Pleasant called on L. E. DeVall on Saturday afternoon.

The minstrel show and clam chowder supper at the M. E. Church Hall on Thursday evening was a success and all who attended reported having a good time.

All of the local ice houses are well filled with the best ice that has been harvested in many years.

The local men working on the CWA project were unable to work last week due to the severe cold.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Feb. 12.—Miss Ann Corley has gone to Asbury Park, N. J. where she is in training as a nurse.

Mrs. Burton Christensen of the North Boulevard is spending some time at Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bush of Olive Bridge entertained at dinner and pleasant Thursday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. North, Shokan, Mr. and Mrs. Alois Maria, Olive Bridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Justus North of Shokan.

William Lawson, a student at Cornell University, spent a few days recently at the home of his mother, Mrs. William Taveling.

R. G. Calgate has been appointed first aid administrator to the local "W. A. M. E. S."

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Granville Davis of Olive Bridge in the loss of her husband who died suddenly last Thursday night.

Olive Rebekah Lodge No. 470, of which a number of local matrons are members, initiated four candidates at the last meeting of the order in Tongore. The new members are Mrs. Cecil Gray, Mrs. Mary E. Mitchell, Rosewell Markle and Earl Christians. Lester Rose is confined to his bed by illness. Dr. Joseph J. Cosgrove is attending young Rose.

A real estate transfer of February 12, 1897, was that of a parcel of land on the east side of the Esopus creek from William P. Castle to Libbie Barton and Mary C. Short. Mr. Castle, a farmer and an active member of the Shokan M. E. Church, resided on the west side of the Brown's Station road.

Chester A. Lyons recently sold a new model Chevrolet sedan to a member of the forestry camp at Holcville.

Mrs. Elmer Bedell is reported to have suffered a relapse following her partial recovery from a serious illness.

The CWA men employed on the county road job worked last Monday and Tuesday and thus lost no time on account of the severely cold weather later on in the week.

Everyone is glad to see Dr. Cosgrove again making professional calls after having been off duty for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler and daughter, Betty, were the guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. North of the mountain road.

The Boy Scouts of Shokan Troop, No. 24, mobilized Saturday afternoon at the home of Fred Adelt, committeeman of Ulster-Greene Council.

Luke Burlingham was numbered among the Kingston business men who braved the cold weather of last week to call on merchants in the village.

Isaac Jones of Ashokan is making the regular daily trips to and from Kingston with the Davis Express truck while the proprietor, Alonso Davis, is engaged with his team on reservoir work. "Ike," one of the star players of the Shokan basketball team, is a hustler; he covers the distance to town in half an hour flat, which is traveling right along, as they say.

The people of the twin villages were sorry to learn through The Freeman of the illness of Sydney K. Clapp of Kingston. Mr. Clapp, who has been connected with the water works job since its inception, has many friends here who hope for his speedy recovery.

February 12, 1866, a rain caused the ice to go out of the Esopus Creek. Curiously enough, the breakup of the year 1861 also took place on the 12th, the freshest on this occasion taking away a part of the long bridge over the creek at Shokan. This annual spectacle in the old days before the reservoir was an event looked forward to with considerable interest by residents of the upper Esopus Valley. The news that the "ice is going out of the creek" brought many people to the vicinity of the bridge, and sometimes worth going a long way to see.

In addition to the pleasures connected with exchanging original Valentines, the pupils of the local school will be treated to refreshments by their teacher, Mrs. Lena R. Burgher, at the Valentine party to be held in the school house Wednesday afternoon.

The lowest temperature registered at the post office during the recent cold spell was 15 below zero, though in the Coons district a reading of 25 below was reported. Plenty of trouble from frozen pipes and hydrants was experienced by folks here and a number of cars were laid up temporarily. Paul James, one of the mail carriers, made no attempt to start his firer Friday evening for the trip to Ashokan, preferring rather to ride Shank's Mare. Harrison Gridler, principal of the Ashokan school, was on the job each day despite the bitter cold, though he has a long ride from his home at Shady.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons, accompanied by Mrs. E. C. North and Frank Jones, motored to Tarrytown and return last Monday.

A Desert That Will Remain There is one desert in Arabia which bids fair to remain forever impassable—a real desert this, a literally infernal waste, as arid as a floor of granite, as hot as a furnace blast, as dreary as a cemetery of the Wahabites, a desert of agony for man and beast. It is that region of volcanic drift 300 feet above the sea and about 2,000 miles square, in the Hijaz, southwest of Jeddah. Harat Khathbar, as it is called, has been for centuries a land of unmitigated terror for caravans.

Chivalry Offender, the strongest fortress in the world, resembles a huge, craggy rock. The rock is covered with luxuriant vines and shrubbery. It is the key to the Mediterranean and its strategic importance is immediately apparent. After a stirring history it was captured in 1794 by a British fleet under Sir George Cockburn. The rock is a hivescomb of tunnels and galleries, and is equipped with powerful guns, searchlights and radars.

Old Gym Becomes A Studio

Artists in many communities are decorating and enriching public edifices through joint endeavor. Here is one employed by the CWA working in an abandoned gymnasium at the University of Iowa on a series of panels depicting agriculture and the practical arts. The model is standing at the right.

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Fire works agency are promised in the Senate when the name of George C. Mathews of Wisconsin is presented for confirmation as a member of the federal trade commission.

Mathews was appointed by President Roosevelt after William E. Humphrey, a republican, was ousted a short while ago presumably because the White House wanted a man in the position whose mind was more likely to run along with that of the administration, particularly as to enforcement of NRA laws.

Humphrey took his case to the courts where a decision still is pending.

Republican senators have served notice they will have a lot to say about the matter when Mathews' name comes before the Senate. It is too good a talking point and involves too good an opportunity for democratic embarrassment for republicans to overlook it.

The Commission Steps Up

OTHER considerations aside from those purely political enter into the question.

The federal trade commission under the new administration has assumed a position of steadily increasing importance. It has been elevated from the status of just another government bureau to a position of influence and prestige.

The present congress gave it a new lease on life when it charged the commission with the duty of administering the securities law. Under the NRA the commission is set up as a virtual grand jury of enforcement in industry. The long-awaited stock market legislation promises a further expansion of its duties and powers.

When the case is opened in the Senate, therefore, aside from the purely partisan issues raised, there will be a lot said about what the President really wants the commission to do.

It is possible that the Mathews-Humphrey incident may prove of great importance in testing congressional sentiment now on the President's plans for a "managed national economy."

Battle Lines Forming

THE Mathews nomination will bring about an impressive alignment of forces in the Senate. Republican stalwarts like Fess of Ohio, McNary of Oregon, republican leader, and Vandenberg of Michigan will attempt to make it unpleasant for the democrats.

Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader; Clark of Missouri and others on the democratic side may be expected to have a lot to say in defense of the President's move and against Humphrey.

As for the White House, the administration, fortified by the department of justice, appears confident of its legal position.

Rosedale Fires.

Rosedale, Feb. 13.—The local fire department was called out twice last week to extinguish two small fires. On Thursday evening the garage of Dan Ghean on the property of the Rosedale Reformed Church was on fire, and on Saturday morning "Gad's Garage," the property of Warren Sammons, had a small blaze. At both fires the damage was small.

An extinct volcano, active between eight and ten million years ago, has been discovered in Kansas.

S. S. STERN

NO Luckies don't use the top leaves... because top leaves are under-developed... they are not ripe... They would give a harsh smoke.

YES Luckies use only the center leaves of the finest tobacco... because the center leaves are the mildest, tenderest, smoothest.

NO Luckies don't use the bottom leaves, because bottom leaves are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy.

In making Lucky Strike, we actually discard most of the tobacco plant—because we select only the center leaves—and for these center leaves farmers are paid a higher price. We do not use the top leaves—because those are under-developed. Nor the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality—tough, coarse and always sandy. But these center leaves are the mildest leaves, silky, smooth, tender. And so only these center leaves are used in making Luckies the fully packed cigarette—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. The tobacco doesn't spill out. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly—and are always mild and smooth... And then, too—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Rapid Hose To Stage Sliced Air Mail Map The World's All Right Spread Before Fliers

On next Thursday and Friday, February 22-23, at Kingston High School Auditorium, Rapid Hose Co. No. 1 will stage the spectacular show "The World's All Right". A cast of over 150 prominent local people will take part. Committee have been chosen and are at work on the various phases of the production. The show is an hilarious comedy of radio life and answers the description of something entirely different. A splendid cast is being assembled and a real treat is promised. The show is being coached by Miss Mary Gaffney, representative of the Universal Producing Co., who is now in the city arranging for the production. Full details in regard to the cast will be announced later.

Sportsmen's Dinner Dance Plans Progress

Tickets are selling rapidly for the "Dinner Dance" to be given by the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association at "The Spa" West Hurley, on Saturday evening, February 17.

All member clubs of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county have been invited to send delegations to this affair and from the responses so far received it is evident that the member clubs approve of the idea of a sportsmen's "Dinner Dance" and will have a number of their members in attendance.

Through the courtesy of Frank Van Gonsle of the Red Arrow Bus Lines the local association is able to offer free transportation to this affair to any holders of tickets who need it. A bus will leave Brown's Servicenter at 8:30, stopping at the Uptown Bus Terminal at 8:45 o'clock. A second bus will make the same trip at 10 and 10:15 o'clock from the terminals. Return trips to Kingston will be made whenever a load is ready.

Tickets for this affair may be secured from Raymond Tillson, 436 Washington avenue; L. S. Winne & Co., 328 Wall street; O'Reilly's Stationery Store, 38 John street; Broadway Garage, 708 Broadway; Val Schrick, 610 Broadway; William O'Reilly's, 530 Broadway; B. W. Johnson, 34 East Strand, or from any officer of the Ulster County Association.

Mileage cut from $7,000 to $1,000 on Tentative Routing — Also Planned to Eliminate Commercial Subsidies—Newark, Chicago, Salt Lake City are centers.

Washington, Feb. 12. An air mail map temporarily altered from 27,000 to 11,000 miles was spread today before army fliers who will spread-eagle it tomorrow Monday.

Simultaneously, it was disclosed the administration plans to eliminate direct commercial aviation subsidies, paying instead on actual amounts of mail transported. This was described as the basis of new air mail legislation now being drafted for quick submission to Congress. Postmaster General Farley, although indicating permanent alteration would be made in "the whole air mail map," said the much shortened emergency system "would be lengthened as rapidly as possible."

Brigadier General Oscar Westover was placed in charge of army operations of the revised mail flying routes. Newark, Chicago and Salt Lake City were made the centers of the three zones into which the country was divided.

Immediate plans call for only about a hundred ships to take over the routes when the complete abrogation of domestic air mail contracts takes effect Monday night. More may be provided before then, however.

Morgenthau Pledges Silver Restoration

Secretary of Treasury Called For Personal Testimony as House Coinage Committee Opens Hearings on Silver Legislation—Soviet Sales Prospects.

Washington, Feb. 12. (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau pledged himself today for "the rehabilitation of silver."

A letter from the treasury secretary to the house coinage committee was interpreted as forecasting an early step beyond the present federal purchases of newly minted domestic silver.

The secretary himself was called for personal testimony before the committee as hearings opened today on new silver legislation.

Treasury officials look for the usual large over-subscription to the new $800,000,000 note offering on which the books close tonight. The offering is divided into two parts of $400,000,000 each in 22 months, 2 1/2 per cent treasury notes.

The financing will push the cash balance of the treasury past $5,000,000,000. This, however, includes the $2,800,000,000 profit the government made when the dollar was devalued.

Secretary Morgenthau explained: "We are operating our financing just as though the $2,800,000,000 wasn't there."

The $800,000,000 new offering is another marker on the road to the record $30,000,000,000 public debt figure which President Roosevelt has predicted.

While the RFC today completed the new export-import bank which hopes to show credit sufficiently for near future sales totaling $100,000,000 to Soviet Russia, the house committee studied Morgenthau's letter. "It is the firm policy of the administration," he said, "to move forward on a program for the rehabilitation of silver."

Polish Card Party.

The Holy Name Society of Immaculate Conception Church, Delaware avenue, will hold a card party in the school hall Thursday evening, February 22. The patronage of the public is solicited. Refreshments will be served.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Treasure of Marney Gallant, who took Broadway down to Greenwich village, in connection with obtaining a divorce for his Washington Square club, being recollections of a scene of almost a dozen years ago. The Washington Square North premises occupied by the club are the former home of the late Albert R. Shattuck, a retired banker. In April, 1923, French thieves, including a former Shattuck butler, invaded the mansion, locked Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck in the wine vaults and escaped with jewelry and other valuables worth more than $50,000. In the dark depths, with suffocation seemingly only a matter of minutes, Mr. Shattuck swore that, if he escaped, he would pursue the bandits until they were all brought to justice. He did escape from the cellar and at once took up the pursuit. The chase led him practically all over Europe. Three years later, he was dead. But the three thieves are all doing time.

With the exception of the former Shattuck home, the Rhineland estate owns most of the property along the north side of Washington square. Gallant has been an occupant of Washington square for some time and in 1932, moved to the present location, the premises having been sold to a holding company after the death of Mr. Shattuck. In the era of $16 Scotch and $50 champagne, there didn't seem to be any complaints about Gallant's club. But when he made his application for a liquor license, the A. B. C. laid it aside. The reason was a letter from a firm of attorneys representing the Rhineland estate. They declared that not only was the Washington square club a nuisance, but that it was barred from its present location by the zoning law, the district being strictly residential. So the A. B. C. decided to wait until there was a test made of that law before giving Gallant a license.

Washington square was once a meadow. During years when yellow fever took a heavy death toll in the city, it was turned into a potter's field and thousands of rich and poor alike were buried there. In Revolutionary times, it was turned into a drill ground for the militia. Something more than a century ago, a colored girl, who had been found guilty of theft, was hanged there. Subsequently, Washington square became respectable and fine homes were built about it. Many of the old homes still remain, though the square itself has become a breathing place for nearby congested tenement districts; also a resting place for artists, writers and thinkers—and a happy hunting ground for Horatio Alger bootblacks.

Speaking of writers, there is one who hopes most devoutly that this yarn will never reach the ears of his wife, and if it reaches her eyes, that he never will be identified. Living out in a suburb town where liquor prices are lower than in New York, he agreed to bring in a quart for a friend whose wife was having a birthday. His oldest daughter came in on the same train with him for a Long Island week end. Not wishing to carry the bottle, the writer slipped it into the grip of the fourteen-year-old without saying anything to her about it. As the household in which she was to visit is one where liquor is anathema—the wife is a W. C. T. U. worker—his feelings when he reached his office and discovered that he had forgotten the bottle may well be imagined. But there was nothing to be done.

The hostess of the little girl helped her unpack her bag. Consternation struck the child when the bottle was exposed. But, being a resourceful miss, she picked it up and with a smile said, "Here's a present daddy sent you." And that writer has the jitters now every time he thinks of his standing in that home.

Bus top chatter: "After she got all her Christmas presents exchanged, she changed her mind and exchanged them back again. No wonder she's had three husbands."

Mittens Were His Fate

Home City, Kan.—When Oscar Zimmerman was held up he "not only used his head," but also his hands. Ordered to hold up his mittens hands, Oscar complied willingly. He lost 17 cents, the entire contents of his pocket. Wise Oscar had $27 tucked in his mittens, which the robber did not find.

Police Horse Nabs

Man Outrunning Cop

Chicago.—Mounted Policeman Carl Pittle tells his horse Napoleon all about it. Recently he said: "See that man sneaking away from the store with the broken window, Napoleon. Let's you and I swing down and see if he's carrying a gun." Pittle jumped to the ground beside the suspect. The latter, a negro named John Moreland, began to run. Pittle pursued him on foot. Losing ground, he looked about for Napoleon, but the horse was not to sight. Pittle continued running. In an alley he saw Napoleon. He found the horse had overtaken the suspect and had pinned him against the wall by leaning against him.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER SAYS 'BLUE COAL' BEST ANTHRACITE EVER MINED

Find It a Great Time And Money Saver...

If you want clean, steady, healthy heat in every room all winter—if you want to cut fuel bills to the bone—make up your mind now to heat your home with 'blue coal'.

But you don't have to take our say-so. Be guided by what actual users say. Here, for instance is what Mr. Chas. Dickinson, a locomotive engineer of Elmira, New York, writes:

"As I have handled a lot of coal in my time, I think I know good coal when I use it. 'blue coal' in my opinion is the finest anthracite coal mined. No clinkers, few ashes, and besides being a time saver it is also a money saver. I'll use 'blue coal' and enjoy its comforts as long as I burn coal."

'blue coal' gives just the kind of heat you want—the kind you need to heat your home. It leaps into action on freezing mornings when you need heat most. It sends steady, cozy, even heat to every room all day long. And it makes a slow, lasting fire when banked at night and on mild days.

Chas. Dickinson, Elmira, N. Y.

Be safe—be sure. Stick to anthracite. And always specify 'blue coal'—mined by Glen Alden, largest producers of high-grade Pennsylvania hard coal. Remember, it is actually colored blue for easy identification. Phone your nearest 'blue coal' dealer today.

"MY KIND OF TRAVELING TAKES HEALTHY NERVES, TOO"

Earle W. Schoonmaker of Nutley, N. J. travels thousands of miles every year as a commuter. He says:

"I'm quite a traveler, too! And I think I know something of nerve strain. Rushing through breakfast, racing for the 8:04, then facing the same old trip again at the end of a hard day... six times a week, fifty weeks a year. I'm a constant smoker. Morning, noon, and night. My brand? Camels, of course. Because I can enjoy Camels steadily and I never have to worry about jangled nerves. To me Camels are the mildest cigarette. They've got what I call real flavor!"

Thomas Olsen, who sailed a 26-foot boat across 9,000 miles of ocean, says:

"There's one cigarette that I can smoke steadily without getting nervous or 'fed up' with smoking. I mean Camels. They taste mild—never flat—and there is a delicate flavor to Camel's costlier tobaccos that certainly does set Camels apart from other cigarettes."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Most all of us know jangled nerves by these telltale signs—jumping when doors slam, scolding, worrying, nail-biting, frowning, foot-tapping. If you are the nervous type, check up on your eating, your sleeping, your recreation.

And be on the safe side about smoking—take up Camels now.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Dinner Serving Two
The Menu
Breaded Pork Chops
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Fried Apples
Butter
Vegetable Salad
Amberina
Coffee

Breaded Pork Chops
2 chops
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup breadcrumbs
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup oil

Have chops cut 2 1/2 inch thick. Wash with damp cloth. Dip in crumbs and then in beaten egg. Dip in crumbs again and into small baking pan. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and bake one hour in moderate oven. Turn frequently.

Baked Sweet Potatoes
2 potatoes
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 cup butter

Select medium-sized potatoes. Wash well and cut off ends with sharp knife. Bake 40 minutes in moderate oven. Press to make soft and mealy and burst each one a little. Insert butter, sprinkle with salt and paprika.

Fried Apples
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup sliced peeled raw apples
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk

Heat fat in frying pan. Add apples, cook slowly in covered pan until apples are soft. Stir frequently. Add remaining ingredients, cook 5 min.

Biscuits
1 cup pastry
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter

Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter with knife. Mixing with knife, add milk slowly. When soft dough forms pat out until 1/3 inch thick. Cut out biscuits, bake 10 minutes on ungreased pan.

Ginger pears added to gelatin and served with dressing make a tasty salad with meats or fowl.

Talks to parents

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

Tim refused to go to school one day. No amount of persuasion could move him nor elicit from him any reason why he would not.

Finally his mother went to the school principal and from him learned that Tim's name had been posted the day before for ineptitude for mid-year examinations.

To many children such an occurrence amounts to a public disgrace. An exhibition in the stocks on the market-place could not be worse in their eyes.

Perhaps such a feeling is due to over-sensitiveness, but there it is. To the adult the whole matter seems a trifle to a tea-party for him the school world is small and insignificant. But it is the greater part of a child's world, and he feels himself branded for all time if he becomes an object of comment to his school-mates.

No child wishes to be conspicuous. His whole ambition is to be like the other children in clothes, manners, appearance. Disguised by the protective colorings of similarity, he can grow and develop independently until he is able to stand on his own feet and assert his individuality.

To tear away his camouflage and expose him to the bright glare of publicity is to him a terrifying experience, and may well go far toward destroying his self-confidence for a time at least.

Persistent teasing and exposure of his weaknesses eventually may force him to submit to the limelight and apparently with some show of indifference. But underneath the hard layer of "don't care" there will generally rankle a feeling of distrust and bitterness against his oppressors which nothing can eradicate. In most cases a reproof given in private is more valuable than a public disgrace.

"Four Bottles Helped Me"

Feels Fine... Never Tired

"My four children were born close together. I lived on a farm with lots of work to do and I got all run down so I could hardly go. Four bottles of your Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully. Twice since then I had to take several bottles to regulate my bowels and children, do all my laundry and do house work for a garden factory, and I feel fine and never get tired. I have also used the Sassafras Wash and it relieved my trouble."—Mrs. Chas. S. Pinkham, 55 Canfield Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A Coat of Male Favor

THE COAT CLIP

New York. The coat of the moment is distant when a fashion designer is asked to make a coat that will be a wardrobe staple for a while. This is the case with the coat dress that is being substituted for the dress and skirt by a top coat that is made for an extra-chilly day.

The one-sleeved coat is the latest sort of thing, and it is a coat that one can wear for a while. This is the case with the coat dress that is being substituted for the dress and skirt by a top coat that is made for an extra-chilly day.

The usual wrinkle-over-belt goes on, shall a coat be made or shall it be free? That's always a between season subject of debate. The answer is usually, as you know, that coats must in some way be made to look like a dress. It is sometimes enough to know that the waistline is there, right where Mother Nature originally placed it.

There seems sufficient freedom about the length of one's coat to please everyone. Also about the breadth of the shoulders. They are, however, decidedly on the broad side. No extensions, maybe, but as broad as possible which is just one of the things every tailor knows is the best way to make the waistline appear smaller. And that's important.

It's once again the molded line that is played up in cables from the Paris openings and in our own collections. For street wear we are, praises be, permitted to wear short skirts, and encouraged to wear trim lines. For evening we may let ourselves do, but during the day, neat little frocks, trim little coats, classic tailcoats and jaunty little jacket suits are our dish.

Flattery Up Your Sleeve

If there is one thing that dominates collections it is a gay and lively spirit that is carried out in color and fabric. This 1934 optimism is manifested in many ways.

One of these is the contrast that mark sleeve and bodice sections. Dark frocks take on a vibrant air when sleeves are developed in a lively print. Then another way of introducing contrasts is achieved in dresses that are done in one color, with the square set-in sleeves in another. These contrasting sleeves do nice things to the figure, especially when the dress is dark and the reverse theme may be used.

A crystal clip at the neckline is the only decorative detail on the coat, with width introduced through the bodice by gathered fullness. The sleeve silhouette is simple, gaining interest through the manipulation of the ribbed fabric.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Pleated flounces are highly approved methods of imbuing daytime skirts with animation, introduced in single versions, also in terms of two and three, and developed in interesting manner in tunic dresses.

Evening gowns also make good use of flounces in shallow hemline treatments also in knee-deep expressions.

Which Will You Have?

An off-the-face hat in black velvet is made with Breton sailor helm and is worn with a raspberry-toned crepe frock. The neckline is elaborated by loose cutouts.

Persian lamb revers and pockets provide the far accent on a black woolen frock, center top, while a touch of color is given by the charcoal green velvet bow tied under the chin and held by a diamond bar pin. This young woman wears interesting earrings formed of large thick white crystal circles held by black clasps.

A hyacinth blue crepe frock with softly draped bib is trimmed with bands of cartridge pleatings repeated on the sleeves.

Under a mink coat, a dark red velvet frock with a little side-pleated bib held by a diamond circlet, is worn with a small hat of matching fabric.

The slashed brim of a black felt hat offers a new silhouette. The back view of a black sheer crepe frock has the transparent bodice top worked in a corded effect. The sleeves are slightly gathered at the shoulder and the neckline finished with a soft ruche. The lower half of the frock is a solid black.

Simplicity and Grace Combined. 8129—Simplicity and grace are expressed in this unique design. It will at once appeal to the girl who wants something different. The shaping of the yoke, the not too puffed puff of the sleeve, the slightly raised waistline, and the slim line skirt, are all good, commendable features in all assembling of this clever model.

Plaid taffeta was chosen for the yoke, sleeves and shawlcollar; the skirt is of black velvet. Wool crepe in a soft shade of brown will combine well with orange suede cloth or silk crepe. Checked gingham, with white batiste for the contrast is also suggested.

Designed in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 12 requires 2 yards of 25 inch material for lower waist portion and skirt, and 3/4 yard for contrasting material. If made without contrast it requires 2 1/2 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Chinese and Japanese

Chinese civilization and culture is several thousands of years older than that of Japan and, in addition, the Chinese have shown themselves to have an initiative and creative power superior to that of the Japanese, whose facility in methods and adaptation, in turn, is superior to that of the Chinese.

YOUR GROCER WILL HELP YOU KEEP HEALTHY AND HAPPY

Delicious Cereal Promotes Regular Habits

The right kinds of foods form the very basis of health. You need nourishment for strength and energy. And you need "bulk" to prevent common constipation.

Otherwise, this ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. You can correct it, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds generous "bulk" to your daily menu. Tests show this "bulk" is similar to that found in leafy vegetables.

Inside the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

ALL-BRAN is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it safer—and pleasanter—to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines?

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into fluffy muffins and breads.

Remember, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only necessary flavoring added. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MANA. All members are requested to be present.

There will be prayer service at the Reformed Church on Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock. The study will be taken from St. John's chapter. This meeting is welcome of Lent.

The subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Mr. Howard on Sunday morning was "Lent: A Christian's Children's sermon." The Rev. Mr. Howard.

The thermometer dropped to 34 degrees below zero at the power house on Friday morning.

The world day of prayer will be observed on Thursday. A program based upon the pamphlet assured by the general committee has been arranged and all women of High Falls are cordially invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Oscar Church on Thursday at 3 p. m. Each is asked to bring a Bible.

Frank DeWitt of New York city was here to see his mother and sister on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Letrand of North Carolina returned to their home on Sunday.

Miss Jennie Shirley of New York city arrived Tuesday to spend some time home with her mother.

The community hymn sing will be held Thursday evening of this week at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Stanley Steen.

MAE WEST
and her pal Dan Cupid

CUPID: "Hello, Mac, how are tricks?"

MAE WEST: "Why Dan, you darling, what are you doing here in Hollywood?"

CUPID: "Came for a holiday—it's the one place I never have to work. All you girls can take care of yourselves."

MAE WEST: "We get our men, all right. But then we've been using Lux Toilet Soap for years. A luscious skin gets them every time."

CUPID: "You do know men, Mae. I find I've lots more spare time since girls everywhere started using your soap. Guess I'll fly over and see Lupe now. Take care of yourself."

MAE WEST: "By-by. C'm up and see me some time."

Take a leaf out of Mae's little notebook! Lovely, appealing skin attracts men just as honey-suckle attracts bees. You can have it just as easily as the fruit of 10 acres of apple orchard. Lux Toilet Soap. Use it regularly every day for soft, appealing skin that attracts men.

About the Folks

The Coaster Ambulance Service conveyed Mrs. Mary Dunn from the Beneficence Hospital to 27 Jones Street Monday.

Mrs. Donald Cross of Pleasant Valley was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schick of Salem Street, Port Ewen.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Glendon of 26 Wilbur avenue are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter, Margaret Frances, born February 6. Mother and daughter are doing nicely under the care of Dr. George W. Ross.

Mrs. Susie Hill of Rosendale, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. M. Gallagher, of New Brunswick, N. J., called Saturday, February 3, on the S. S. Shawnee of the Clyde Mallory line for Miami, Fla., where they will spend some time.

Odell Suffers Accident

Society Notes

Members met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. Graham gave a comprehensive report on legislative matters of the past week and Mrs. Graham reported on the last Council meeting. On the regular program, Mrs. L. L. L. told entertainingly about "The Token" and the life of its author, Joseph Herkheimer, while Mrs. L. L. L. gave an equally interesting account of Anton P. Checkov and his book, "The Bet." The two topics were of markedly different type. Mrs. Hull reported on "News of the Day." Next Monday the club will meet at one o'clock at the home of Mrs. Remble when the club members will enjoy their club luncheon while a being arranged for by Mrs. Wood Mrs. Van Wageningen and Mrs. Styles.

Twentieth Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club met at the home of Miss Ingalls on Monday afternoon. One new member, Mrs. Elmer, was present. The club definitely chose its subject for next year, which will be "Outstanding Personalities of America During the Past Ten Years." The afternoon program opened with a singing of National Hymns by the club members. A very illuminating paper on "Influence of American Women in Music, Past and Present," written by Mrs. Brandt, was read by Miss Osterhout. The music for the afternoon included the singing of Carrie Jacobs Bond's "A Perfect Day," and the playing of three piano selections written by American composers, by Mrs. Ella Eltinge. They were "Farewell Summer," by Mrs. Beach; "Memory," by MacDowell, and "Scherzino," by Mrs. Dutton.

The next meeting of the Twentieth Century Club will be held on February 28, at the home of Mrs. Cranston.

Tests by tractor manufacturers under guidance of the department of agriculture have shown that the use of alcohol as a motor fuel blend is practical mechanically but not economically as yet.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—Storm clouds over Europe, the recent aircraft tailspin and probable governmental regulation of speculation apparently failed to disturb the stock market today to any great extent. There were somewhat mixed movements while a number of call stock, silver and specialty equities advanced; the alcohol was heavy among with scattered aviation issues. There was considerable profit-taking on the decline.

Stocks received little aid from a market that was not much better than steady. Cotton rallied and dipped. Bonds were higher. The gold currencies gained on the dollar, but sterling was just about even.

Silver mining shares were given new hope by Secretary Morgenthau's letter to the house coinage committee pledging himself for the re-valuation of silver. The steel and carriers were said to have reflected improved earnings prospects for these major industries. Rumors of a price war among the alcohol companies caused some selling in this category.

While bearishness of some professionals continued to be a factor in market operations, most commission firms, while advising caution and selectivity, were inclined to the optimistic persuasion. There is at present no over-extension of public margin trading, it was said, and "outside" participation, except for outright cash purchases, has been relatively small during the past few weeks.

The main attraction at Comforter Hall, Kingston, last night was the basketball game between the Comforter Mission team and the Sioux Five. The score of the game was 28-22 in favor of the Comforter team. The game was a close one, with the Sioux Five showing some defensive work in the first half. The Comforter team was led by Steve Hamm, who scored 14 points. The Sioux Five was led by a player who scored 14 points. The game was a good one, with a lot of action and scoring.

BABE RUTH

He says he's getting old, but this new close-up of the one and only George Herman Ruth reveals almost cherubic youthfulness in the countenance of the all-time Hercules of Home-run hitters. As he passed the 10th year milestone he was ready to start another spring training grind after arduous preliminary work indoors in New York.

Bruckmen Face Lucky Five At High Falls Wednesday

In the feature basketball attraction at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, Wednesday night, the Lucky Five of Kingston will clash with Pete Bruck's All Stars, representing Stone Ridge, in a battle that is expected to give lots of action. Lineups for the contest: Luckies—Rhymer, rf; Van Eiten, lf; Schline, c; Joyce, rf; D. Kelly, lf; Stone Ridge—Chilson, rf; Van Deusen, lf; Knoll, c; Widelitz, rf; Cullum, lf. Starting time of the main game is 8 o'clock. There will be a preliminary at 8 between the Stone Ridge Juniors and Seventh Ward Democrats.

Z. N. P. After Victory Over Poughkeepsie Quintet Tonight

Tonight the Z. N. P. basketball team, which lost at Poughkeepsie Saturday, will oppose a team from that city at White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue. A crowd is expected for the game which will be preceded by a preliminary between the Z. N. P. Girls and the Comforters. Manager Tesio hopes to see his Z. N. P. win in order to offset the 20-28 beating they took from the Polonia C. C. at the Bridge City. He counts strongly on the return of Chet Kieffer, who has been out of the lineup on account of injury, to bolster the Z's chances of victory. Besides Kieffer, the Z. N. P. will have Dan Joyce, L. Musialkiewicz, B. Kennoch, F. Tatarzewski, E. Musialkiewicz, J. Dudek, J. Quest, I. Kolano and Randy Kieffer. Starting time of the feature is 8:30 and the prelim, 7:30. Andy's orchestra will play for dancing after the contests.

Athletic Commission Would Tax All Sports

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP).—The levying of a tax on baseball, football, basketball, bicycle racing and all other sports, similar to that now imposed on boxing and wrestling, is recommended by the State Athletic Commission in its annual report before the legislature today. This would produce "a much needed revenue," the report said, adding that it would be advisable that jurisdiction over these amusements be placed in the hands of the commission. The report said fees collected by the commission in 1933 amounted to $137,001 as compared to $172,928 the previous year. The elimination of "bootleg" boxing and wrestling shows has been practically accomplished, it was pointed out. "Reduction of club license fees, plus the clarification of the statute, as well as the splendid cooperation of the various police departments, sheriffs and district attorneys, have reduced violations to a point where they are stamped out before any serious damage can result," the report states.

Insects and Man Do Not See Colors Just Alike

Just as there are sounds which insects make but human beings cannot hear, so we are told, there are colors which insects, but not human beings, can see. These colors, declares a writer in the Detroit Free Press, lie chiefly in the ultra-violet range of the spectrum. Some experiments which the American Museum of Natural History made disclose that a garden of flowers appears very different to insects than to mankind. Pink, yellow and red portulacas, for instance, become strongly ultra-violet in color. Pink and yellow mimulus retain their ordinary shade. But many other flowers show changes when viewed through cameras attuned to insect sensitivity. If this is so, what becomes of Darwin's theory that color is a camouflage for insects? A yellow spider perched on a yellow zinnia might be invisible to its victims, but on a yellow portulaca it would be as conspicuous as a signboard. Darwin's speculations were based on the assumption that insects see the world in the colors we do. In the light of evidence that this is not so, perhaps a re-examination is called for.

Professional football as unveiled to the Kingston Daily Freeman by the Kingston Daily Freeman, the National League has decided to postpone the game between the Miami Redskins and the Los Angeles Bears, which was scheduled for last night, to the 25th, 26th or 28th as the new date.

The decision to fix another date was reached last night at a conference between the managers and garden officials. It was brought out that the Miami Redskins Horse Show Ball, a milk fund entertainment, a Greyhound derby night and a Cuban Beach celebration are also planned for the 25th.

State Racing Group May Control Sport

Way Clear Today for Introduction in Legislature of Measure to Transfer Power From Jockey Club—Will Attempt Legalized Betting. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP).—The way was clear today for the introduction in the Legislature of the measure to transfer control of New York state's racing from the Jockey Club to a state racing commission, with enlarged powers. Senator John J. Dunnigan, majority leader, disclosed last week that he planned introduction of a new racing program as soon as the annual report of the present commission of three members was presented to the Legislature. This was done last night.

"I ask that the report lie on the table as I intend to discuss it at some length in the near future," said Senator Dunnigan. The Jockey Club has governed state racing for nearly a half century. The racing commission praised the Jockey Club for its control of the sport and urged serious consideration be given to the enactment of a law to legalize betting such as was passed by the Assembly last year only to be killed in committee in the Senate.

The same bill, sponsored by Senator James J. Crawford and Assemblyman William Breitenbach, is before the Legislature again. Receipts of the state's racing associations dropped from $2,812,775.75 in 1929 to $1,153,440.66 last year, the commission reported.

Primitive Man Needed No Money; Used Barter Plan

Primitive man needed no money because he was almost entirely self-sustaining and his limited needs could be easily taken care of by the direct exchange of articles or commodities. When people began assembling into communities, the direct exchange of service became more complex and many different forms of money came into existence. Civilization brought about such a great concentration of people that highly standardized money was developed to enable them to trade indirectly and to store up excess service for the proverbial "rainy day." Every civilized nation in the world has a standard monetary system and its worth in the world markets is solely dependent upon the ability of the particular nation to collect, in the form of taxes, a sufficient portion of the services of its people to meet its obligations.

Money is the product of service and therefore has no basic control over the economic status of the country. Prosperity or depression merely reflects the amount of the demand of the public for service, and the money power of the nation adjusts itself to the demand.

One yardstick can measure many bolts of cloth and one dollar can measure much service. It is the number of times the same dollar is used to measure service or the speed of circulation that builds prosperity, and not the mere quantity of money available.—Detroit News.

Granite Wears Well

The bureau of mines says that properly selected monumental granite will probably last from 100 to 200 years without serious deterioration in the climate of America. In a more uniform climate granite obelisks have stood for thousands of years with little evidence of serious decay.
